

Valerie Alexander, CPP
Manager, Payroll
San Francisco 49ers

Valerie Alexander, CPP, has worked in the payroll field in various capacities in payroll operations, payroll tax compliance, California wage and hour compliance, and human resources.

Ms. Alexander is a multidisciplinary professional with a solid background in payroll management and has a record of success in diverse high-pressure business environments. She is an effective communicator with the ability to build loyal teams and boost morale using a positive, staff-empowering management style. She is a successful public speaker with the American Payroll Association's National Speakers Bureau. In addition to being an accomplished writer, she is an adjunct professor with a local higher education institution in Sacramento, CA, teaching California Payroll Administration and Accounting and is a consultant providing her California subject matter expertise to valued clients.

Ms. Alexander's specialties include management reporting, forecasting, and Sarbanes-Oxley business controls. She is experienced in global payroll operations, mergers and acquisitions, payroll best practices, payroll performance metrics, electronic filing, multistate taxation, nonresident aliens' taxation, payroll for expatriates, project implementation, and shared services implementation and processing. Ms. Alexander is currently putting her talents to work running payroll operations for The San Francisco 49er, a professional American football team based in the San Francisco Bay Area.