

Danny Schulz

Danny Schulz is a passionate corporate payroll and tax specialist with over 15 years of accounting experience. His passion lies with focus on developing processes and systems to streamline operations, reduce expenses and boost overall efficiency. He has been with Kohler Co since 2012 in a variety of roles relating to payroll and is currently the Senior Manager – Payroll, Systems & Taxes. He currently oversees a team of 15 Global Associates and is responsible to develop and drive for overall standardization globally for payroll and time systems, as well as overall payroll processes. As a detail-oriented team leader with experience building long-term, adaptable, strategies looking to incorporate new technologies he enjoys looking at the future of payroll and how technical advancements can be leveraged to enhance the role of payroll within the organization.